Hustling VillageChautauqua Talent Announced.

C. H. Turner of New York, assistant general manager of the Community Chautauqua was in town last week in conference with local committees regarding the coming event. Mr. Turner made a partial announcement in regard to the several attractions that will visit here during Chautauqua week, August 10 to 14 inclusive, when about 20 separate entertainments will be given under a canvas probably on the school lot used last year, morning, afternoon and evening. The following attractions have been scheduled for this place: Victor's Venetian band; Theobald, the famous Norwegian soloist, called the greatest in the world today. His violin is said to have been made in 1520. Florence Stittell, grand opera star, from the Chicago Grand Opera company, with pianist Lee Frances Lybarger, lecture on "Pork Barrel Legislation"; Frederick Ward, the world's greatest Shakespearean actor and author; Euclid B. Rogers, popular lecturer; O'Hara, famous Irish tenor and composer, with Wetmore, the entertainer and humorist; Prof. Delroy, English scientist and exposé of fakes; American Quartet, Dunbar Southern singers; playground work in tent each morning under direction of superintendent of playground work and a speaker on business efficiency methods to be announced later.

School Pupils to Sell the Tickets.

Much enthusiasm has been aroused among both teachers and pupils over the coming exhibition of pictures to take place at the school building on May 24, 25 and 26. The proceeds from the exhibition will go toward purchasing pictures for the schools. There will be on exhibition this week the prize pictures which will go to the school whose pupils sell the most tickets. The first and second grades will not take part in the competition. If the people of Orleans can buy tickets freely, sufficient funds ought to be raised to enable a number of good pictures to be bought for the school.

Someone broke into the Orleans garage and got nothing but a good scare. Mr. Badger being somewhat of an electrician had wired the garage building with electric bells with his home. When the miscreant reappeared from an open window he was met with a volley of shot and shell from Mr. Badger's bedroom window. Badger is a better electrician than he is marksman.

Building operations are progressing briskly. A. H. Swett has moved the old Rogers house to the back part of the lot and is remodeling it into a modern house of bungalow type. The Eldridge handkerchief factory building is completed. B. A. Scott has been doing the work on both jobs. C. E. Gay is building the dwelling house for S. F. Sargent on Maple street and one on East street for Colby Stoddard.

O. H. S. baseball team is on the high road leading to the school championship of Orleans county. They have cleaned up the series with Newport and expect to win the series with Barton tomorrow afternoon at Barton. They won a decisive although close victory over Lyndon Institute here Saturday by a score of 4 to 3 and they start a series with North Troy at that place next Saturday afternoon.

Merle Colburn, Guy Harris, John Mann, Lynn Sanborn and Gerald French had a narrow escape Friday evening as the result of an auto accident at Beebe. The occupants of the car were about to return home from a dance at Beebe when they met a car approaching at full speed. There being no room to pass on the right, the driver of the car owned by Mr. Harris took the ditch on the left just in time to avoid collision with the other car. In so doing, however, the car struck a hydrant and telephone pole simultaneously, with damaging results to the hydrant and to the car. The occupants escaped with nothing more serious than bruises.

Mighty Glacier Caverns.

It has long ago been discovered that water produced by the melting of glacier ice in summer flows down through crevasses to the bottom of the glacier and, forming a channel by erosion, emerges often as a large stream. In the arctic region these phenomena take place on a very large scale. The Danish expedition to the northeast of Greenland, conducted by Mylius and Erichsen, discovered and explored vast caverns thus formed by glacial streams. Some of these caves are sixty to seventy feet in height and more than a mile long. In winter the streams cease flowing, but the caverns or tunnels remain ready to receive the streams of the following summer.
